HUSBAND'S FAMILY IN FIT OF INSANITY; SUICIDES

Prominent Attorney of Seattle Kills Wife and Daughter Then Takes Own Life.

WORRIED OVER FINANCES

W. L. Seeley, Once Bank Examiner in Illinois, Reduced to Want, Ends All.

SEATTLE, Wash., Jan. 17.—W. L. Seeley, an attorney and former bank examiner for Illinois, under Comptroller of the Currency Eckles, his wife, Mrs. Kate M. Seeley, a member of the National Society of Daughters of the American Revolution and his daughter, Miss Rena Seeley, a student at the University of Washington, and a member of the Delta Gamma society, were found dead in a bath room of their home, 307 Eighteenth avenue, in the fashionable Capitol Hill district, at 1 o'clock this afternoon. They had been dead since the previous Thursday. The women, both of whom were clad in night robes, had been murdered by being struck in the head, evidently with a hammer. There was no mark of violence on Seeley. He is believed to have been partially chloroformed and then drowned in the bath tub. All three were kneeling at the side of the bath tub with their heads submerged in the water. A steamer trunk was on the bodies of Seeley and his wife.

Motive of Family Did Exist.

That Seeley killed his wife and daughter while insane over financial worries and then committed suicide is the theory of the coroner and the police. He was clothed in his underwear, shoes and trousers. His night gown, which was bloodstained from the bodies of the two women, was found beneath a clean pillow in the room occupied by him and his wife. The pillow on which Mrs. Seeley had been sleeping was saturated with blood.

Seeley came here less than two years ago from St. Joseph, Mo. He had lived there two years and had moved there from Ottawa, Ill., and had engaged in the practice of law wherever he had been for the past 30 years. Seeley was 56 years of age, his wife about three years his junior and his daughter 22 years of age.

The bodies were found by Guy M. Smelzer, affianced husband of Miss Seeley, and E. R. Seibbell, a friend of the family. The family could not be communicated with after 2 o'clock Thursday night when Smelzer talked over the phone with Miss Seeley. Efforts to get into communication with them after that was unsuccessful. The only thing on the premises was a huge black cat which was locked in the basement and which since Friday had been fed by neighbors.

Financially Embarrassed.

Although keeping up the appearance of prosperity, Seeley had been forced to borrow money for his last month's house rent from W. W. Wilshire, an attorney from whom he rented desk room in the New York block.

Police detectives searched the house

DON'T FAIL TO CAST YOUR VOTE TOMORROW

LIQUOR INTERESTS OF CITY ARE WIDE AWAKE.

Overconfidence Is the Only Thing That Will Defeat Citizens Ticket.

The charter convention election for the selection of 21 members of a convention to draft a proposed charter for Colorado Springs, will be held tomorrow. Although it is practically a foregone conclusion that the Citizens ticket, representing both the Republican and Democratic parties, as well as the business interests of this city, will be elected by a big majority, this can be done only by the votes of the people. The registration is extremely light, and the liquor interests are spending much money in boosting for the People's ticket, in order that a wide open policy may be provided for in the charter.

No carriages or automobiles will be provided to take voters to the polls since the Citizens committee has no funds to spend in this manner, and trust that the voters of Colorado Springs will take enough interest in this vitally important question to walk to the polls and cast their ballots for the ticket which represents the whole town, and not merely a few druggists.

All Urged to Vote.

The Citizens ticket was nominated by the Citizens Water committee in behalf of the Chamber of Commerce, Merchants association and Real Estate exchange, and at the request of the Republican and Democratic city central committees. Although it seems almost impossible that a set of candidates, comprising 21 of the most representative taxpayers of this city, and backed by civic and commercial organizations, as well as both political parties, can be defeated by a liquor druggists' ticket, these same druggists are working with might and main to accomplish their purpose. Sentiment, however, is overwhelming in favor of the Citizens ticket, and its success is predicted on every hand, although this very confidence may result in a general lethargy on the part of the people and failure to vote.

The People's party workers will be out in full force, and it is the duty of everyone with the interests of the city at heart, to take the trouble to go to the polls tomorrow and cast his or her ballot for the Citizens ticket.

THREE TRAIN WRECKS WITH ONE FATALITY

TWO OF THE ACCIDENTS OCCUR ON MISSOURI PACIFIC.

Many Passengers Injured in Shake-up Near Coffeyville, Kan.—Rock Island Fireman Killed.

PUEBLO, Colo., Jan. 17.—Missouri Pacific passenger train, known as the St. Louis fast express, which leaves here at 8:05 p. m., was wrecked near Boone, 28 miles east of Pueblo, about 9 o'clock tonight. The engine and five or six cars jumped the track, but according to a telephone message received here no one was killed or seriously injured.

The engine and express car were hurled from a bridge over an arroyo and the enginemen had miraculous escapes. The train was in charge of Conductor Black, while Engineer Lockhart was at the throttle. The news of the wreck did not reach Pueblo for almost an hour, and wreckers of the Missouri Pacific and Denver and Rio Grande are being hastened to the scene.

Headon Collision.

COFFEYVILLE, Kan., Jan. 17.—A southbound passenger train on the Missouri pacific railroad from Kansas City, collided headon with a northbound freight train two miles west of this city this morning. Twenty-four passengers were hurt, but only two, Mr. and Mrs. P. S. Powell of Mowata, Okla., are in a serious condition. The members of the engine crews jumped and saved themselves. The engines were demolished.

Train Runs Into Open Switch.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Jan. 17.—Rock Island passenger train No. 43, from Memphis to El Reno, Okla., ran into an open switch and crashed into a switch engine, killing the fireman of the switch engine, J. M. Woods of Argenta, and partly demolishing both engines, today. The engineer of the passenger train, John Morrison, and his fireman, W. D. Dorasett, jumped before the crash. Both were hurt.

"ECONOMY" CRY HOLDS APPROPRIATIONS DOWN.

President's Hopes of Four Monster Battleships Will Not Be Realized By Private Contract?

By Guy W. Finney.

Special to The Gazette.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—When the naval bill is reported to the House next week it will authorize only two big battleships instead of four, as the program of the advocates of "bigger navy" originally called for and which President Roosevelt hoped would be done. This change of plan is due to the insistent "economy" cry, which Chairman Tawney of the House committee on appropriations has called on the House to heed, and to the probability of vigorous opposition to the plans of the "four battleship men." Taking warning at the opposition of the four-battleship program at the last session of Congress, only two members of the naval committee of the House have had the hardihood to declare out and out for the authorization of four big ships at this session.

But despite this desire for curtailment of the naval budget, the bill to be presented next week will carry ex-

AUGUSTA, Ga., Jan. 17.—Introduced to a big audience of col. [illegible] comprising the negro Y. M. C. A. of this city today, President-elect Taft discussed the Christian uplift of Y. M. C. A. work. Dr. Walker, known as the "Black surgeon," who introduced Taft, said the negroes of Georgia owned $1,000,000 worth of property. This report Mr. Taft declared as most encouraging. It gave him an illustration for the oft-expressed belief that the race question must be settled by the negroes themselves.

NO DEATHS REPORTED AMONG INJURED PASSENGERS

Few if Any, Among Those Hurt in D. & R. G. Wreck Will Die of Wounds.

FRIENDS ARE WORRIED

Telegraph Office at Glenwood Flooded With Dispatches for Supposed Passengers on Wrecked Train.

GLENWOOD SPRINGS, Colo., Jan. 17.—The confusion following upon the wreck at Dotsero is gradually being straightened out. The track has been entirely cleared and traffic resumed without interruption.

The debris resulting from the wreck, thrown to one side while searching for bodies and clearing the track, is to be picked up carefully, and nothing will be burned on the ground save the broken splinters, and those not until they have been carefully gone through a second time lest any body might still be lying therein.

The situation is being directed by General Manager Ridgway of the Denver and Rio Grande, who remains here until tomorrow. Working with him are General Surgeon O'Connor and Claim Agent Resnick and a corps of assistants. Dr. O'Connor is personally supervising the care of the injured, and assisting in the identification of the dead, while Resnick is preserving all property and possible clues to identification.

No Deaths Among Injured.

There have been no deaths among the injured since yesterday, and more hope is entertained for the recovery of those whose condition is serious. There were 136 passengers on the train and most of these are accounted for. It is known that a number proceeded on their journey without being reported. Some of the unknown dead have been identified today. All the men have been identified in nearly every case positively. The railway was greatly assisted in this by the Associated Press report. George Maham of Princeton, Ind., is missing, and it is possible that he may be one of the men concerning whose identification there is not positive proof. His wife is among the seriously injured and is no condition to give a description. She insists that her husband and father were on the train. The father, Henry Dunn of St. Louis, has been found among the dead.

The telegraph office here has been flooded with dispatches addressed to supposed passengers on the wrecked train, from anxious relatives. In many instances the railway people are able to answer where the persons addressed have gone on, but there are a number of names which do not appear among the list of passengers.

Corrected List of Injured.

The following list contains the names of all the injured with report of their condition up to noon today. Thomas Cadwallader, Joliet, Ill., scalp wound, abrasion of face, fractured rib.

L. J. Excll, Williston, N. D., internal injuries, numerous contused wounds, condition serious.

W. H. Jaffary, engineer, Glenwood, compound fracture left foot, fracture of right thigh, condition serious.

Lydia Maham, Princeton, Ind., large lacerated wounds on both thighs, compound fracture of left ankle, contusions on face, condition serious.

Charles P. Manee, Rockland, Cal., general contusions, and Mrs. Charles P. Manee, Rockland, Cal., shock, will continue journey tomorrow.

S. J. Martin, Covington, Ky., dislocation left elbow, fractured rib, small scalp wound.

Phil Peters, Jr., express messenger, Denver, general contusions.

Williams, boy four years old, fracture left leg, small scalp wounds, small lacerated wound on elbow, burn on right leg.

Unknown boy two years old, fracture right thigh.

E. F. Robinson, Denver, spinal injury.

A. P. Roseau, Holdrege, Nebr., compound fracture [illegible] location right ankle, condition serious.

Arciris Rontacranis, Fort Worth, Tex., internal injuries.

H. B. Schuler, Covington, Ky., lacerated wound of leg, severe wound on forehead.

Clarence Vassau, Middlebury, Vt., slight contusions.

SURVIVOR TELLS OF AUFUL CATASTROPHE

RELATES PITIFUL STORY OF ACCIDENT NEAR GLENWOOD.

Supposed to Be Injured and Dying Persons Everywhere—Total of 23 Dead in Wreck.

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Jan. 17.—A number of survivors of the Dotsero wreck on the Rio Grande, reached Salt Lake today. Those who were not too benumbed by the scene of horror through which they had passed related pitiful stories of the disaster.

"I was sitting in a Pullman" said George H. Harris, a Salt Lake man, "when I felt a jar. It was nothing much so far as the shock was concerned, but out of curiosity I went to the platform to learn the cause of the stop. Only then did I suspect that we had been in a collision. It seemed as though the passengers from every undamaged car were upon the scene instantly, and every man and a majority of the women set to work to aid the unfortunates under the debris.

"When we had completed our work it was found that 19 were dead, three others died in the hospital and a hobo who was riding the blind baggage was crushed to death. That made a total of 23 dead. It was a wonder to me that the cars did not catch fire, but fortunately, we did not have to battle against that misfortune. The chair coach was completely demolished and there was hardly enough of it left to fill a clear box. Where the accident occurred there is a river on one side of the embankment and a sheer descent on the other. The impact drove the tourist sleeper right through the chair car ahead, one side falling down the embankment and the other into the water.

"It seemed as though there were injured and dying people everywhere. Cries for help filled the air and the dying offered up prayer upon prayer to be taken quickly that they might [illegible] awful ends."

LAWMAKERS OF STATE WILL ATTEND STOCK SHOW TODAY

Legislature Will Adjourn Immediately After Being Called to Order This Morning.

FARCE BEING ENACTED

Governor's Joke on Democratic Majority in the Senate Causes a Smile Among Politicians.

Special to The Gazette.

DENVER, Jan. 17.—Governor Shafroth's little joke on the Democratic majority of the senate, compelling members to show their disposition towards his appointments before he sent any in for actual consideration, has set the politicians and others laughing. Of course, the senators refuse to believe that it came in any spirit other than that of a real appointment, and they think the discovery that the acquiescence of that body was unnecessary was made after the governor had submitted his message, which is quite comforting. It gives rise to another question of parliamentary procedure, which may add to the humorous features of the farce. It is a rule of the senate that when a matter has been referred to a committee, it remains in that committee until a majority reports it back. The Champion appointment has been so referred. Up to this time the chairman has been unable to get a majority of his committee to agree to return the message of the governor. Should the committee remain obstinate, how is the senate to be able to return the message to the governor?

Will Visit the Show.

Neither house will be able to transact any business tomorrow, as both have agreed to attend the stock show. They will be called to order at 9 o'clock, and at 9:15 will board tramway cars for the stockyards to witness the opening of the big show. Though some of the members hope to return to the Capitol in time for at least a short session in the afternoon, there is little hope of anything of the kind. Hence the next real business session will be Tuesday morning, when comes up the election of a United States senator.

Committee work will begin as soon as sessions of both bodies can be had to receive reports from the printing committee. About 25 bills have been ordered to the printer, all of which were in type by dark Saturday night. There main proof reading and printing, which will likely be completed some time in the morning.

Redistricting of State.

A conference of leaders of the house was held yesterday to consider the question of attempting to reapportion the state into senatorial and representative districts. The gentlemen present were unable to agree on the legality of such an attempt, some of them so reading the laws of the United States and state that such could be done directly after the national census had been taken. Others thought it could be done every five years. Members state that a bill will be introduced to provide for the redistricting, and an effort made to get it through, so that those who object may appeal to the courts.

The Republican members of the house and senate will likely caucus tomorrow to decide on who shall be given the honorary vote for United States Senate at the session of Tuesday. The Republicans have been unable to agree out of caucus, and some believe they will have no better success in caucus.

CO-OPERATIVE CLUB THRIVES IN HAVANA

MOST INTERESTING FEATURE OF CITY'S SOCIAL LIFE.

Exercises Influence Among All Classes of People—Small Dues; Many Privileges.

By [illegible] J. Y[illegible]

V—Havana's Great Social Clubs.

HAVANA, Jan. 11.—Havana has the largest social clubs in the world. The Asturiano club has 28,500 members, the Clerks club has 27,000 members, and the Gallego club roster shows 24,000 names. There are many other smaller clubs, so that one-third of the population of Havana is represented in club membership. As only men are admitted to these clubs, and as two-thirds of the population must be women and children, it is apparent that almost every man in Havana is a club man. The club exercises a social influence in Havana among all classes of people which is not to be found in any other city.

The Clerks club is, perhaps, the most interesting organization. Its name in Spanish is "Asociacion de Dependientes del Comercio de la Habana," which means literally the "association of dependents upon the commercial institutions of Havana." Every salesman in every shop in town, every waiter in a cafe, every cook, every cab driver, every bank president, every merchant prince, every politician in the city belongs to this club, or to one of the others.

Small Dues; Many Privileges.

Each member pays his dues of $1.50 a month, in Spanish silver, which is about $1.25 in American money. In return for that he has the use of a magnificent club house with every facility for enjoyment. He has the privileges of the gymnasium, the baths, of the classes of instruction which are held in the club's school room. He may send his children to the club's kindergarten, its primary school, its grammar school and its high school. He may have his wife go to the club for expert instruction in sewing, cooking and domestic science.

If he is unfortunate enough to become ill he goes to the club hospital. There he has the attention of the best physicians in the city, he is cared for by graduate nurses, he is given the best of everything. If the surgeon is needed, there is the best of operating rooms and the highest of surgical skill at his command.

The club member goes to the club dentist to have his teeth cared for, to the club oculist for eye treatment or for glasses. If he has tuberculosis he is sent to the specially erected club hospital for the tubercular patients. If he is stricken in the mind and becomes insane, he is not herded with the patients in the state hospital, but is cared for in the club's own private sanitarium for the insane.

And for all of this he pays $1.50 a month in Spanish silver. Never any more. When he pays his dues he gets all these benefits, except that he must pay for the actual gold used by the dentist and must pay for the actual cost of glasses fitted by the oculist. But the hospital and the services of the physician and surgeon are free. All the other things are free. The club dues comprehend and embrace all these things.

Develops Out of Colonial Days.

The benefits of such associations as these to the community are apparent. The conditions in Havana are such as to make them even more beneficial than they would be in an American city. These institutions are a development of the Spanish colonial days.

Four centuries of union have not amalgamated the peoples of the several ancient kingdoms of Spain. The Spanish emigrant to Cuba in the old days was loyal to his country, but he was more devoted to his particular corner of that country. Peculiarity in customs, ideals, even in language, caused him to seek his own people in this new land. The majority of immigrants to Cuba came either from the ancient province of Asturias or from the ancient kingdom of Galicia. The Asturianos and the Gallegos

FATALLY SHOT AT RANCH CHARIVARI

TRAGEDY OCCURS AT WEST FOUR MILE CREEK.

Shooting Is Done by J. [illegible] Vivian, Who Mistook Party for Thieves Carrying in Springs.

Special to The Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Jan. 17.—Shot and probably fatally wounded last night by John H. Vivian, a friend, recently married, at whose home he had called to assist a party of merrymakers with a charivari, Clinton Wilson, son of John Wilson, a prominent ranchman on West Four Mile Creek, 18 miles west of this city, lies at the Sisters hospital here, where he was brought, immediately after the shooting, in a precarious condition. The shot was fired before the purpose of the crowd became apparent.

On December 22 last, Vivian was married to Miss Daisy D. Ashley, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth McKenzie, at Colorado Springs. Last night at 11:15, Wilson and other ranchmen and cowmen gathered at the Vivian ranch, near the Wilson place, for an old-fashioned "belling." Vivian has built a new house for his bride, but the boys, supposing he still occupied his old cabin, nearby, were prowling about it when Vivian was awakened by the barking of his dog believing the silent figures he saw moving about were thieves. Vivian opened the door and began to shoot.

Wilson, the only victim, was hit. Vivian was his right to [illegible]

sought their own kind on this side of the Atlantic. The well-to-do attempted to aid the poverty stricken. From small individual charities arose a concerted effort to help. Then the co-operative plan was decided upon and the Asturiano club and the Gallego club were born. Their growth was slow, but with increasing membership came increasing income. The benefits were extended until the present great system has evolved.

In Havana the shopkeeper lives above or behind his shop. He keeps his place of business open nearly all the time. The commercial business of Havana still remains in the hands of the Spaniards. Not Cubans with Spanish language and customs, but Spaniards born in Spain who come here to make money and who intend to go back to Spain to die. These merchants bring their salesmen from Spain. The apprentice clerk gets very little salary beyond his bare living. He always lives with the family of his employer, always eats with them and always sleeps in the store, under or upon a counter. He works early and late, and he has few opportunities for recreation.

Membership of 27,000.

It was for these clerks that the Clerks club was organized in 1880 with something less than 500 members. The membership has grown to 27,000 and still is increasing. This club has entirely changed the life habits of these poor clerks, has opened to them opportunities for education and social advancement which they never could have had under the old order of things. The only objection ever urged against this club system came from Americans of the type who oppose the Young Men's Christian association because they claim it gives poor boys fancy notions. These Americans declare that the Clerks club in Havana is bad because it causes the clerks to content themselves with their condition instead of striking for higher wages. As there are thousands of poor boys in Spain to whom this Cuban poverty appears to be wealth, there is serious doubt as to whether a strike would be successful or not. Such objections are received with great patience by the men who have studied these clubs.

The Asturiano club probably has the finest hospital, although all three of the big club hospitals are excellent. These are built in sections, that is many small buildings, and the grounds about them are beautifully laid out and beautifully kept. There is not the slightest suggestion of the ugly barrenness which characterises so many hospitals in the states. The hospital wards are villas, and the grounds are tropical gardens.

The Clerks club has the finest club house. The Gallego club, however, is building a million dollar palace which will be one of the finest club houses in the world. The Gallego club owns the National theater, which is situated on the Prado, opposite Central park, and the new club house is being built on the adjoining lot. The Asturiano club is on the opposite side of Central park and the Clerks club is a few blocks down the Prado, toward the Malecon and the sea.

Million Dollar Club House.

The Clerks club building occupies almost a whole square. It cost, all things taken together, almost a million dollars. It is the most beautiful building in Havana today, both as to exterior and interior. Its grand stairways of marble, its vaulted ceilings and lavish mural decorations remind one of the Library of Congress in Washington. The building is new, it has been occupied less than two years, so that everything has the "new look."

In this club is the largest pool and billiard room in the world, having almost twice as many tables as its nearest rival, which is New York. In the domino room there are 200 tables. In the drinking saloon there are seats for 1,500 at the cafe tables. There are 50 chess tables in another room. Everything is on the same grand scale as the list of members.

The ball room is one of the most magnificent on earth. In it 3,000 couples may dance at one time and it is frequently crowded at the great carnival balls. This great room is lighted by scores of immense chandeliers of prism glass, and the electric current necessary to give it the full possible light effect costs over $1,000 a night. Never was there a real castle in Spain possessed of such a wonderful and splendid hall as this, and yet it was built and paid for and is the property of poor Spanish boys, whose income today would be insufficient to support life in the United States.

Color Line Is Drawn.

In this great ball room the belles of Havana come to dance, for their fathers are members and officers of the club. Here come the clerk and his sweetheart, the cafe waiter and his sister. The rich and the poor, the high and the low—all mix in good fellowship. It is absolutely representative of all the conditions of social existence among the white people in Havana. The color line is drawn here, though not so narrowly as in the states, for a small amount of negro blood does not necessarily disqualify a man. It is literally a question of color, and unless the shade of the skin is too dark everybody is welcome to join the club and possess all its advantages for $1.50 Spanish silver each month.

The Cubans have taken this co-operative club idea with them to Key West and Tampa, where they constitute the majority of the cigar-making population. The Asturiano club has its branch in Tampa and it is prospering. The Spanish club of Tampa, an institution following the Havana plan, has one of the handsomest club houses in all the southern states.

Cubans have learned much from the Americans in the past 10 years, but that does not mean that they are not qualified to teach the Americans some things. This co-operative club work is one of the things Americans might study with profit. Certainly it is one of the most interesting features of the social life of Havana.

Will Cure Dyspepsia

WILL DIGEST EVERYTHING, GIVING NOURISHMENT TO THE ENTIRE SYSTEM.

Man Folks Here Unanimously Saying Their Stomach Trouble and Indigestion Relief Handy.

Miserable indeed is the man or woman whose digestive system is suffering—who goes to the table and can not eat, or what little is eaten seems to fill them and lays like a lump of lead in the stomach, refusing to digest.

If you, dear reader, suffer this way and will put on your wraps now and get from your Pharmacist a 50-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin and eat one 32-grain Triangule after your next meal you would appreciate, five minutes later, how long you suffered unnecessarily.

There will be no more indigestion—no misery in the stomach, no sour risings or Belching of Gas, no Heartburn, Flatulency or Eructations of undigested food and acid or feeling of Nausea, Fullness, Headache or other symptoms of a weakened Stomach.

Stomach trouble and Indigestion vanish like snow before the blazing sun.

When Diapepsin works your Stomach rests—gets itself in order. Diapepsin purifies and sweetens a sour stomach and freshens the intestines without the use of Laxatives; and what is more, it increases the gastric juices. This is what your stomach is begging for—more and better digestive juices. This is what makes you hungry and want to eat, and you can rest assured, what you then eat will be taken care of properly and not left in the stomach to ferment and turn to gas and acid, and poison the breath with nauseous odors.

Get a 50-cent case from your druggist now—you ought to have Diapepsin about the house always. Should one of your family eat something which does not agree with him or her, or for a Sour Stomach or Excessive Gas, one triangule will always give immediate relief.

W. O. Chuck, Denver, fracture left leg, extensive lacerated wound right thigh, fractured rib, condition serious.

D. E. Wheeler, Grand Junction, wound of left thigh, right knee severely bruised, right palm lacerated.

John Rosso, Cleveland, O., forehead and right forearm badly bruised.

C. S. Burnett, Farmington, Washington, small scalp wound, sprained ankle.

Mr. Wilson, Denver, scalp and face wounds, taken home.

No Word From Engineer.

No statement has yet been obtained from Engineer Gus Olsen of the passenger train. He will not be well enough to talk for several days, and until then the investigation as to the blame is at a standstill. Conductor McCurdy's report has been handed in and he has gone home to Salida. The members of the coroner's jury, after viewing the bodies returned last night. Coroner Gilpin will hold the inquest when Engineer Olsen is able to give his evidence.

The body of J. H. Davis was taken to Denver this morning by his partner, Lester Bridaham. The bodies of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Kettle were claimed this morning by Fred Kettle, a brother from Grand Junction, and who identified the young woman who died on the relief train as the daughter of the Kettles. He claimed that two more children, a boy and a girl were traveling with the dead, but failed to find them among the dead, and thinks they may not have been on the train.

TWO BIG WARSHIPS ARE RECOMMENDED

penditures of approximately $132,000,000, as compared with $128,000,000 for the current fiscal year. The two battleships to be recommended are to be vessels of 26,000 tons displacement, larger than any now afloat, and to cost $19,000,000. The rest of the $29,000,000, which represents the increase this year over last, will be used to construct five torpedo boat destroyers, $4,000,000; three colliers, $3,000,000; four submarines, $2,000,000; one subsurface boat, $400,000.

Secretary of the Navy Newberry will oppose any recommendation that the big ships be constructed at the navy yards. In fact, he is not in favor of any construction work on any of these new vessels being done by the government. If the naval bill, therefore, should come out of committee directing this work to be done in navy yards, it will likely be followed by a protest from Secretary Newberry, who is backed in his stand by several leading naval officers.

Secretary Newberry's contention is that by private contract this work can be done at considerably less cost. By way of illustration, he refers to the collier now building at the Mare Island navy yard, which he says is costing the government much more than the estimated cost of a similar vessel purchased from a private shipbuilding firm.

While it was estimated last year that the two 20,000 ton battleships authorized by Congress, and now building, would cost $10,000,000 each, the members of the naval committee have been led by the navy department officials to believe that it will be possible to construct the proposed 26,000 ton ships at a less cost than that estimated for the larger ships last year. This saving will amount to $1,000,000, and according to Secretary Newberry it is due to the competition among the private shipyards.

Will you longer stand for a system of City government which increases your taxes, deprives you of water owned by the people, and permits politicians and those whom they serve, to run your water system? If you want to abolish this system of City government, then vote the CITIZENS Charter ticket.

selves, becoming indispensable to the community in which they live. This meant industry, information and thrift, acquired by constant individual effort.

Mr. Taft dwelt at length upon the advantage of Y. M. C. A. work to bring out this end and illustrated his point by picturing the temptations and depression of Americans in the Philippines and the help which the association is rendering there to afford wholesome ways of entertainment for the leisure hours. It was his belief that the Y. M. C. A. had brought about in this country more tolerance between the various religious denominations. As an example of this he gave a detailed account of the situation in which the government found itself with respect to the Friar lands in the Philippines. Concurrence, he said, had been obtained from a body of clergymen representing the various denominations that no protest would be made by them when the government should take up the negotiations necessary to acquire title to these lands. Their purchase for $7,000,000, he said, had saved what would have been a bloody revolution in the Philippines.

"Forty years ago," he said, "it would have been impossible to have obtained this concurrence. There would have arisen among the denominations an objection to it on the ground that it was a recognition of the Roman Catholic church contrary to our traditions."

Mr. Taft described the Y. M. C. A. work on the Isthmus of Panama, where four clubs are running, each under the direction of an experienced Y. M. C. A. secretary, paid by the government, where 10 or a dozen ministers are also employed by the government with a plan indorsed to establish two or three more clubs.

Mr. Taft arrived here from Atlanta at 9 o'clock today.

Fred W. Carpenter, who will accompany Mr. Taft to the White House as secretary to the President, got here today from a vacation in California.

The statement is authorized from Mr. Taft that no person has authority to represent the President-elect as taking any attitude whatever regarding the senatorial situation in Oregon. The need of such a statement has been impressed upon Mr. Taft by information that his name was being used in efforts to break down the Oregon primary law.

E. H. Harriman is expected here tomorrow.

MURDERS FAMILY IN FIT OF INSANITY; SUICIDES

for weapons with which the murders had been committed, but were unable to find any blood-stained implement. No article of jewelry or anything of value was taken from the house. Every window and door was found to have been securely locked.

Seeley is an uncle of M. F. Gose of Pomeroy, recently appointed by the governor to the Washington supreme bench. He has a brother, Charles at Pomeroy, Wash., and another, Frank, at Hood River. Charles discredited the theory that his brother was in financial straits by saying that recently he had received $5,000 from the settlement of his father's estate. His brother knows no motive for the crime and thinks the man must have been insane. What has become of this money is not known.

Climbed Through Transom.

This morning Smelser and his companion who discovered the bodies, went to the Seeley home determined to find out what was the matter. They tried doors and windows and finally climbed over a transom of the back door and got into the house. In the front bedroom, which was that occupied by Mrs. Seeley, a great blood stain was found on the bed. Another big stain was on the bed in Miss Seeley's room, but Smelzer and Zibbell did not see it. Going into the bathroom, they found the three bodies, all with their heads in the bath tub, filled with water. Over the corpses of Seeley and his wife was a steamer trunk. The trunk did not touch the body of Miss Seeley, but was a few inches above it. An empty chloroform bottle was on the stand in the bath room. Clutched in the hand of Seeley which was beneath the water, was a pocket handkerchief which, although soaked in water for a day, still carried a faint trace of the odor of chloroform. There were three wounds on the head of Mrs. Seeley. One was above the left eye and the other two were on the forward part of the head. The blow that evidently killed Miss Seeley was dealt her over the left eye. There were no marks on the man.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Jan. 17.—W. L. Seeley, for three years was treasurer of the St. Joseph Stock Yards company here and a director in the Stock Yards bank. His financial condition while he was here is thought to have been good.

He was a member of the best clubs and of society. His daughter was a favorite in society. Colonel John Donovan, general manager of the stock yards company, when told of Seeley's tragic death, exclaimed, "Why it's too horrible to believe. Seeley could not have done anything of that kind. He was too much of a man."

CHICAGO, Jan. 17.—Mr. Seeley was well known among bankers and lawyers in Chicago and throughout Illinois. His official relations with the banks kept him traveling through various parts of the state, and although he maintained no permanent residence here, he passed much of his time in Chicago before settling at Ottawa, Ill.

MILITARY INFORMATION ABROAD IS PURCHASED

Request of Foraker May Uncover Matter Which Should Be Kept Secret.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—In exchanges of views between the President and senate leaders at the White House today the fact was brought out that the President intends to send to the Senate a full report in response to the Foraker resolution, calling for an itemized statement of expenditures under the $8,000,000 war deficiency act of March, 1899.

It was stated that all payments would be shown, but in some instances the names of persons receiving money from this fund will be withheld, and the information given privately to the Senate. The reason for this is that the expenditures have been for procuring military information [illegible] at the White House as a matter which should not be made public.

The report, however, will be sufficient to show the character of the expenditures, and if further information is desired by the Senate, then the responsibility for making it public will rest upon the Senate. It has been suggested that, inasmuch as the purpose of the resolution was to show expenditures for the Brownsville investigation, that Senator Foraker might be willing to modify his request to cover the Brownsville affair only.

ORGANIZED LABOR WANTS MONEY TO RUSH APPEAL

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Determined to press to final issue the appeals in the pending injunction proceedings against the American Federation of Labor, an appeal was today issued by the executive council of that organization, "to organized labor, its friends and sympathizers," for funds for that purpose.

After declaring that "a most unusual and important epoch has occurred," in which extra funds are essential to carry on the fight, the appeal sets forth the recent decision of Judge Wright, and says an appeal has been taken in that case, as well as in the original injunction, growing out of boycotting the Buck Stove and Range company.

It is added that "President Gompers and his colleagues are on trial for your rights coequally with their own."

SETTLE IROQUOIS FIRE CASES

CHICAGO, Jan. 17.—It was made public today that after five years of litigation settlements had been made in the case of 30 of the deaths caused by the Iroquois theater fire. It is stated that $750 a case is to be paid.

UNITED MINE WORKERS IN CONVENTION THIS WEEK.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 17.—The twentieth annual convention of the United Mine Workers of America will meet here next Tuesday. Between 1,200 and 1,400 delegates are expected.

It is certain that the contests between the supporters of President Lewis' administration and its opponents, which has been going on for several months, will be threshed out during the two weeks' session.

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—The open shop and a fight to a finish was the action decided upon by the Hat Manufacturers association at a meeting held here today to discuss the situation growing out of the strike of the hatters, which began May 1. An effect of the strike, according to the manufacturers, will be higher priced hats. Samuel Mudheim said that the number of strikers was between 15,000 and 20,000.

What Press Agents Say

MAJESTIC—MURPHY TONIGHT.

The usual warm welcome awaits the return of Tim Murphy at the Opera House tonight, and the usual delightful evening is in store for the big audiance which will greet him, for he is to give his most successful and latest comedy, "Cupid and the Dollar," in which it is generally conceded that this genial artist is at his very best. An unusually long cast is required and in Mr. Murphy's company are to be found many celebrated players, many in their original roles. Miss Dorothy Sherrod will give the star his principal support. The production will be distinguished by the exceptionally beautiful gowns the ladies will wear and by the completeness of the scenic investiture. Mr. Murphy's role is that of a straight-grained, clear-headed, warm-souled and happy-hearted American, seeking to untangle a complicated romance and weave his way out of the many amusing situations into which the story and his own whimsical personality lead him. In this sort of a role he is unapproachable. It is often likened to his and Sol Smith Russell's delightful personation of the editor in "A Bachelor's Romance." Artists capable of realizing the humor and pathos of such essentially lovable human beings, instead of creating mere theatrical puppets, have all but disappeared. Prices, 50 cents, 75 cents, $1 and $1.50. Some good seats still left.

"THE RED MILL."

Of all the musical successes which were indorsed by New York, Boston, Chicago, Philadelphia and St. Louis the past season, none stood out more boldly and continued throughout the entire year as did Charles Dillingham's production of the Henry Blossom and Victor Herbert musical story, "The Red Mill," which, in point of audiences and business, has never been equaled in this country by any musical play. The tone of refinement which pervades, the modest and picturesque costuming, the interesting and clever story of two American tourists who have gone broke on a traveling trip, and who, after many complicated situations find themselves assisting in an escape from the mill, form one of the most sensational stories ever given a musical setting. It is made doubly entertaining by the introduction of some of the cleverest music ever composed by the author, Victor Herbert, who has fitted Henry Blossom's unique story and telling lyrics with melodies that will be hummed and sung and whistled for many years to come. Among the most successful musical numbers heard in "The Red Mill" are "Every Day Is Ladies' Day With Me," "You Never Can Tell About a Woman," "Go, While the Goin's Good," "The Streets of New York," "Because You're You," "The Isle of Our Dreams" and "I Want You to Marry Me."

Included in the cast are Walter Wills as Con Kidder; Nell McNeil as Kid Connor; W. H. Brown, Harry Carter and Milton Dawson.

The improvements promised at the Majestic when the new management took over the house, began last night with a complete rearrangement of the seating capacity. A large force of workmen, under the supervision of E. H. Morrman, the architect, began tearing out the seats on the lower floor immediately after the last person left the theater after the final performance Saturday night. It did not take long to raze the opera chairs and the busy men worked steadily all Saturday night and Sunday. This morning the Majestic presents a complete transformation down stairs. The house is certainly made more attractive, safer, and patrons will be able to reach their seats quicker and at the same time everybody will be out of the draft of the front door, by reason of these improvements. Heretofore there were no aisles down the sides next to the walls. Now there is a broad space for entrance and exit on both sides. A six-foot wide aisle has been made down the center of the house. It is figured that with the improvement, the house could easily be emptied in a very few minutes by reason of the broad aisle and the many exits, both in front of the house and in back.

The new opera chairs ordered a month ago will soon be here and will immediately be installed in place.

Architect Moorman has delivered the plans for the improvements for the lobby and front of the house and work will begin upon this at once.

Local contractors will do the work and will so arrange it that it will not interfere in any way with the three performances daily.

According to the plans, the Majestic will be the handsomest theater in Colorado when completed.

The program for the week beginning this afternoon at 2:30 will include the "Four English Rockers, a girl act with pretty costumes and much special scenery; Pastor & Merlin; Devoy and the Sisters Dayton; George Yeomans; Mandy Barackman and the Majestiscope.

"TOO PROUD TO BEG."

Lincoln J. Carter's latest and best masterpiece, "Too Proud to Beg," will be seen at the Opera House Saturday evening with a special 25-cent matinee for everybody.

The story is one of interest and intense excitement. In brief it tells of the pitfalls and snares a young wife is thrown into by an unscrupulous official of the city, who uses his office to shield himself and trap her; of the young, ambitious husband, who is made a tool by the villain, his superior officer in the police department, and who separates and breaks up the happy family; of the two children, who are stolen and brutally treated by the villain's gang of hoodlums, and finally the meeting of the happy family and the expose of the criminals. The play's merit is in the strong story itself and doesn't rely upon any exciting scenic effects to help it to the climax. A strong cast is with the attraction and several neat specialties are given during the performance.

FEATURE FILM AT CRYSTAL.

"Where is my wandering boy tonight?" A question often asked in the quiet evening hour by loving mothers, (perchance called "old fashioned") the world over.

"Happy he with such a mother! Faith in womankind beats with his blood, and trust in all things high comes easy to him; and tho' he trip and fall, he shall not blind his soul with clay."

Such a mother has our young hero, who leaves the shelter of the old homestead, to embark upon a business career, far away in the great city.

His boyhood's sweetheart is there to press his hand and wish him success—and, when he has passed from view, turns to the mother for consolation.

Alone in the great city our hero meets new faces, makes new friends. No mother now, or sweetheart near, to counsel or warn. We see him, in the lightness of his heart, overcome by temptation, and saved from a felon's cell by the far-reaching power of a mother's prayer.

WILL THE LADY PROMOTERS EXPLAIN?

MRS. LILLIAN H. KERR and Mrs. Jenny Shelley Boyd, who seem to be the accredited spokesmen, or spokeswomen of the Board of Lady Promoters of the Women's Municipal Charter League, which is the parent organization of the Peoples Charter League, seemed very anxious, in their speeches at the Opera House, Saturday night, to repudiate the support of that element of their following that is working hardest to elect their ticket—namely, the drugstore-saloon crowd. "I don't know Lombard," vociferated Mrs. Jenny Shelley Boyd, "and I don't know A. Jae Ward." Likewise, no doubt, Mr. W. J. Bryan was never formally introduced to some of Bob Speer's Big Mitt-heelers, but that didn't prevent them going down the line for him in Denver last fall. Whether or not Mrs. Jenny Shelley Boyd and Mr. Ward have the honor of each other's acquaintance is a matter of no consequence; the essential point is that they are now enthusiastic workers in a common cause—the election of the Peoples charter ticket.

And now will Mrs. Jenny Shelley Boyd and Mrs. Lillian H. Kerr, jointly or severally, or with the aid of some of the other Lady Promoters, frankly answer a few questions? If it is true that they did not seek and do not want the support of the "blind-pig" druggists, why did they put D. E. Monroe on their ticket after he had been turned down by the Citizens Committee because of Ward's frank statement that said druggists wanted him there "to protect their interests?"

Why did they give another place on their ticket to W. G. Egan, proprietor of the Park Hotel and of a Huerfano Street rooming house, a man who is frankly and openly an opponent of the present liquor laws and who is well known to be seeking a place on the Charter Convention to do what he can to overturn those laws and "protect the druggists' interests?"

Let us have an end to all this hypocrisy and sham, this pretense that everything connected with the Peoples ticket must be as pure as the driven snow because "we ladies" did it. Too often when women enter the political field they want to play the game with a big handicap in their own favor. They want to deliver blows as men, but when their opponents strike back the cry is raised "How dare you attack a woman!" The plain truth is that the Board of Lady Promoters was actuated by a perfectly human desire to rally to its support as much strength as possible. They wanted the support of union labor; therefore they put two or three union men on the ticket and got it indorsed by the Federated Trades Council. Then they discovered that the "blind-pig" druggists, having been turned down by the Citizens Committee, were anxious to throw their support to a rival ticket provided they could gain the recognition which would enable them to "protect their interests." The Lady Promoters saw the opportunity and grasped it. They lost no time in giving a place on their ticket to the very man who had been refused a place on the Citizens ticket because Ward had urged him for it, not as a representative of the whole people but as a representative of the druggists, "to protect our interests."

THE PLAIN TRUTH.

The Peoples Charter League talks volubly of its "principles" and in a paid advertisement on the first page of Saturday's Telegraph declares that "it represents not a single interest, business or otherwise, but stands for justice and power for the whole people." In the light of the above facts as to how the Peoples Charter League represents the "interests" of the blind-pig druggists, this solemn protestation of virtue is by no means convincing.

MORE INCONSISTENCY.

THE backers of the Peoples charter ticket are industriously circulating the report that the Citizens Committee, or somebody else, has already prepared a charter, made to suit the "interests," which is to be rushed through the convention and adopted in the event of the election of the Citizens ticket.

This statement is utterly untrue. There will be no cut-and-dried procedure in a convention made up of the men nominated on the Citizens ticket. Nobody on that ticket is pledged to any one plan of government or to any interest. The convention will be a deliberative body and will do its work entirely after it is elected and while holding its sessions. It will examine the charters of other cities and consider them in the light of our own conditions and necessities, and will agree upon the form of government which it deems best suited to Colorado Springs without regard to conditions elsewhere. It may or may not adopt the commission form—that is a matter to be decided by the convention when it meets not by any crowd of politicians who will not themselves be members of the convention.

WOULD DO AS THEY DO IN RICHMOND.

Contrast this attitude of the members of the Citizens ticket with that of the Peoples charter crowd. If there ever was a cut-and-dried program it is the one drawn up by the Board of Lady Promoters. They declaim loudly against the alleged cut-and-dried charter which they pretend to say is now already drawn by the Citizens Committee. They were careful to exact a pledge from each of their candidates in favor of certain schemes of city government which they call their principles. Some of those principles are very good; we have no criticism to make on that score; but we do criticise severely the idea of sending a body of men and women into a convention pledged in advance to a cut-and-dried program from which they can not deviate without violating their word.

Such a method robs the convention of its deliberative character, prevents the exercise of its best judgment based on new information which may come before it, and converts it into a set of automatons who can do nothing but carry out the instructions of the little coterie of women politicians who nominated them. The result would be a charter framed, not by the convention elected by the people for that purpose, but by the Board of Lady Promoters. The only function of the convention would be to ratify the instructions of its owners.

It seems to us that this method of procedure is entirely wrong and contrary to the spirit of the constitutional amendment under which we are working and which was designed to intrust the work of charter-making to a thoroughly representative and deliberative body. But however this may be, it ill becomes the Board of Lady Promoters and their drugstore annex to talk about the alleged cut-and-dried methods of the Citizens Committee when they themselves are trying to jam through a program long since agreed upon and adopted.

CONCERTED ACTION FOR GOOD ROADS.

THE Joint Good Roads Committee from the various local organizations has acted wisely in calling a general conference of representatives from the counties most vitally interested in securing the proposed north and south state highway. This conference will serve to unite the various counties in a general, systematic and concerted movement to secure the passage at the present session of the legislature of good roads legislation.

Colorado has reached the stage where the construction of good highways and their proper maintenance is one of her most important problems. The Rocky Mountain Highway Association, of which General William J. Palmer is President, has prepared and had introduced a bill with which that association expects to make possible the construction of highways along a broad and systematic basis. This bill will be considered at this conference.

Spasmodic road building is of little value. When the legislature divides the funds up in such a way as to give each county a bridge or half a mile or so of road, it is scattering its fire and accomplishing little of real good. It is better that some general plan be outlined and work done thoroughly and systematically upon one feature of this until completed; then attention is given to another important road in another section of the state. In this way Colorado can have, without increased cost, within ten or fifteen years, a system of state highways of which she can justly be proud.

A STATEMENT BY D. E. MONROE.

To the Editor of The Gazette:

In your paper of yesterday, the question is asked: Why am I on the People's Charter ticket, and how I got there. In the first place, I will state I was one of three candidates named in a petition for representation on the Citizens Charter ticket, which petition was signed by all the druggists not having liquor licenses and a number of the others. The druggists felt that we should have recognition, inasmuch as our taxable property represents approximately $200,000, besides the $17,000 paid to the city annually for licenses. We were not recognized. Then, as far as I know, the matter was dropped, and nothing whatever concerning it has been intimated to me since.

A day or two before the People's Charter league ticket was named, a committee called on me and requested me to become a candidate on that ticket, and specifically stated at the time that my name was to be used as a representative citizen of Colorado Springs, and not as a druggist, nor an agent of the Druggists association. After being assured that the ticket was made up of such men as E. W. Stephens, R. G. Robbins, Drs. Dennis and Mayhew, and others, I gave my consent, and feel very much flattered to have been accepted. However, had I known that such an erroneous misconstruction could have emanated, my name would have never appeared.

In regard to Mr. A. J. Ward: Outside of business relations—(I mean by that the exchange of merchandise, the same transaction we have almost daily with all the druggists)—I have not even talked with him since the Citizens ticket was named. I emphatically deny that he has attempted to influence me in any way.

I have not seen Mr. Lombard for three months or more, and have never had any political relations whatsoever with him. I positively know that no funds have been proffered by any druggist or agent.

I came to Colorado Springs in 1887 and have never before taken any active part in politics.

D. E. MONROE.

LITERARY "MISBRANDING."

To the Editor of The Gazette:

We hear much of the misbranding of foods nowadays, which suggests that there is a sort of literary "misbranding" that is also of importance. The works of Edgar Poe, for instance, come to us comparatively rarely in the form in which he left them. Soon after his death a "friend" wrote a life of Poe in which he repeated all the libels he had ever heard concerning Poe, and invented more on his own account. He then proceeded to publish an edition of Poe's works in which he was good enough to favor the world with such "improvements" on Poe's text as occurred to him. And it is only lately, through the labors of Stedman and Woodbury, and later and better, of Professor Harrison, that the text of Poe, one of our greatest poets, whose tales are, at their best, true poems, whose centenary we are (or should be) this year celebrating, can be had as Poe wrote it. The case of Whitman is no better. In only one edition is the text of "Leaves of Grass" printed as Whitman left it, and one may see on the shelves of one of our best book shops copies of an "edition" of Whitman which one of his literary executors described as a "hodgepodge of discarded poems and lines and poems on which the copyright has expired."

STUPIDITY QUITE GENERAL.

From the New Bedford Standard.

Visitors to Boston feel that possibly they were not as stupid as they feared that they were when they find that the Bostonians themselves do not know how to get to the South station or how to get away from there.

THE OUTDOOR SCHOOL.

From the Boston Transcript.

The school board has made a formal request of the park commission for the temporary use of a portion of the Franklin Park refectory for the kitchen, property room and shelter of the Outdoor School. In July, also, the roof of the building might be utilized. This innovation in the American educational scheme has been shown to be an effective and economical plan for educating and invigorating weak and sickly children. Toledo, Cleveland, Newark and other cities have been watching its operation with much interest. This special class belongs to the Jefferson school, and until the Christmas recess it was cared for in a summer shelter and a tent on Parker hill, but now the pipes have frozen and there is no opportunity for the children to get dry and warm after coming through the wet.

MIDST THE TUMULT AND THE SHOUTING.

From the Chicago Tribune.

Friday the Senate defeated an amendment to place 1,500 census employes under civil service. The House already had defeated an amendment for competitive examinations by a vote of 119 to 65. So with the Senate action, which may or may not escape public attention during the present rumpus with the President, this little survival of the day of spoils is rounded out. Thus is fulfilled the candid statement of one Plunkitt, a representative of Tammany Hall in the House:

"We differ on tariffs and currencies and all them things, but we agree on the main proposition that when a man works in politics he should get something out of it."

The episode provides a pleasantly ironic footnote to the heroics of outraged dignity and righteous indignation now shaking the halls of Congress.

THE HOUSE VINDICATES ITS HONOR.

From the Springfield Republican.

Nothing truer or more cleaving was uttered in the House debate on the resolutions laying on the table the secret service paragraphs of the President's annual message than Chairman Perkins' remark that "no legislative body will be respected by the people unless its respects itself." By an overwhelming vote of 212 to 35 the House demonstrates that it will not receive from the executive unjustifiable and untruthful aspersions upon its honor as a legislative body, and thus leaves no possible doubt that it will maintain its self-respect at whatever cost.

Nor can the President's counter assault upon Senator Tillman affect in the slightest degree the merits of the question which the lower branch of Congress has met. The South Carolina Senator may be a knave, but at least he had no fear of the secret service or of official inquiry into his own acts, inasmuch as it was Senator Tillman himself who initiated by his own request the government investigation by postal inspectors which has furnished to the President the ammunition which he now uses against him. If Senator Tillman, however, or any other Senator, has disgraced the Senate, that body will know how to deal with him. For the Senate has yet to act on the issues raised by the President in connection with the secret service. The House has vindicated itself.

BATTLESHIPS OF GREAT POWER.

From the Philadelphia Inquirer.

What the naval department and the President ask of Congress is an appropriation for four new battleships more powerful than any now afloat or contemplated elsewhere. They are planned for a tonnage of 25,000, will carry 16-inch guns, will have a speed of upwards of 20 knots and will cost something like $15,000,000 each.

The board of directors of the American Peace society, with headquarters in Massachusetts, that land where protests against all development are nurtured, is horrified. It has sent a truly Bostonese remonstrance to Congress in these terms:

"We ask you to refuse to go further in the ruinous and extravagant expense of warships. We ask you to help replace international suspicion with mutual confidence and friendly good will. We believe it will not be long before all nations will gladly follow the reasonable and civilized lead of the United States in this course."

Well, the peace society is all wrong. If this nation should follow its theories there would be a continual invitation to warfare. "Mutual confidence" is a meaningless phrase. At a time when every other nation is building navies, for us to take the back track, to permit our navy to run down, would be to commit suicide. Should the United States decline to keep peace with other powers, its action would not be understood. On the contrary, we would be regarded as a weak sister who could be insulted with impunity. Our voice would cease to carry influence. The time would come when the Philippines and Hawaii would be lost to us and when South America would be open to the land-grabbing propensities of greedy nations.

Peace will be maintained just as long as we are in a position to demand and command peace, and that position will be held just as long as we keep a powerful navy afloat. As to these contemplated battleships, they would be the very best preservative of peace that we could have.

This country is rich. It can afford to construct battleships. Once we should adopt the policy of building the greatest of battleships and make it known positively to the world that as long as other powers persisted in enlarging their navy the United States would be ready to outdo them, there might be a lively hope that a general understanding for restriction would not be far off.

These huge battleships will cost much money—so much that, were other nations desirous of duplicating them, their governments would find themselves in serious straits to obtain the money. We can stand naval expansion very much longer than any other nation. Thus, would it not be cheaper in the end to build on a generous scale now? Wouldn't we be in a position sooner to advise a halt all around and a general understanding?

We think so, and, believing as we do, we can have no sympathy with the unreasoning hostility of the peace society, which is doing its best to render its own aims impossible of consummation.

TODAY'S HOROSCOPE

Monday, January 18, 1909.

Strong the tides of commerce thrill:
For the gambler now they ill.

The moon is in trine with saturn and in square with Jupiter on this 18th day of the year. Mercury is in a benefic aspect.

A day of great promise especially for the material and worldly affairs of life.

Business of all kinds should prosper exceedingly in this period. Great undertakings will be begun under bright auspices.

Beware, however, of quarrels, particularly in the morning.

Avoid speculation. The signs are for the positive things, not those of doubtful fate. There is a sinister shadow over the path of the gamester.

Press hard on all affairs. Push business buoyantly. Begin new trades or enterprises.

Open new offices or shops. Sign writings, send forth circulars and advertise what thou hast to say.

Travel. Sell. Go abroad in the land. Handle gold and silver.

Hire men for office or shop this day.

Social intrigues should be avoided carefully by women with this birthdate.

Quarrels or law suits will do harm to men with this birthdate. Let them avoid angry decisions. Those in employment are in danger from giving way to jealousy of a fellow employe.

Children born this day will probably prove headstrong and somewhat rash. Girls should be trained to patience and self-restraint. Boys will have hard struggles in business if they do not cultivate self-control.

MIRACULOUS RESCUES ARE STILL EFFECTED IN MESSINA

MESSINA, Jan. 17.—Earthquake shocks continue here, but fortunately they are slight and have done no further damage. Seven babies were baptized today, which event was celebrated as the return of the city to life.

For the first time since the earthquake the provincial council met, a ferry boat being used for the meeting place.

Every day brings greater surprises in the form of miraculous rescues. An aged and decrepit woman was found by the rescuers today still alive.

She was unconscious, however, and her condition is so grave that she can hardly survive.

AMERICAN CAN'T OWN PROPERTY IN JAPAN

Bill Offered California Legislature Compared With Japanese Law.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Jan. 17.—Governor Gillett has received a letter from the Japanese consul general at San Francisco, outlining the laws of his country affecting the ownership of land by aliens. This was the request of the governor when the consul visited him to protest against proposed legislation against Japanese holding property in this state.

A. M. Drew of Fresno introduced, early in the session, a measure providing that aliens may hold lands for five years after they shall have reached the age of 21, but if at the end of that time the lands shall not have been conveyed to bonafide purchasers, they shall be sold by the state. It also provides that no contract, agreement or lease of real estate shall be made to an alien for a longer period than one year. In order to determine what action to take when the bill should come to him for signature, the governor asked the representative of Japan to furnish him with information of the treatment accorded aliens in the Islands, and the reply shows that Drew's bill is more drastic than the Japanese law. In that country, aliens are not allowed to own land on account of the crowded condition of the Islands, but corporations may lease property for 100 years, giving them all the rights, except actual ownership, allowed to natives.

The governor said today that he had not completed his investigation, and was not ready to pronounce an opinion of the merits of the proposed measure.

A rose by any other name would also have as many thorns.

SPIRITUAL GRAFT.

So long as the Christian church preaches a scheme of salvation that is virtually the saving of one's soul by spiritual graft, it is no wonder that we see the influence of such teaching reflected in the political affairs of the nation. Men will be in their politics no worse and no better than they are in their religion. And the customary thought of religion is that it is just a scheme to get permanently into heaven by becoming an earth-follower of Jesus, and so becoming a sharer in the spoils of the hereafter. Generally it goes under the name of religion. Is it not just graft?

PORTLAND MANAGEMENT WILL RETAIN CONTROL

Offer to Give J. F. Burns Place on Board of Directors Is Withdrawn.

In regard to a report in a Denver paper yesterday morning to the effect that James F. Burns of this city will make another fight to regain control of the Portland Gold Mining company at the annual meeting in Cheyenne February 1, and that he has the backing of stockholders sufficient to win the struggle, an officer of the company said last night that even if Burns makes his usual fight, the present management will be re-elected. The management already has proxies for far more stock than is necessary to control the meeting, and, in fact, more at this time with relation to the date of the meeting than at any previous time during its incumbency.

The Denver paper also made much of the fact that Burns was offered a position on the board of directors, which he is claimed to have refused. It is learned on reliable authority that, in the interest of harmony, the management acceded to the request of mutual friends that Burns be given a position on the board, and offered him this office. His conditions of acceptance were such as to practically abrogate the power of the other directors, and the management thereupon withdrew its offer.

Burns was deposed four years ago as president and general manager of the company, as a result of strong objection by the stockholders to his radical methods.

While the politicians and their friends, the "interests," run your water system, you can confidently expect a repetition of last summer's experience—no water for trees, lawns, flowers or gardens. Vote to take the management of your water system from the politicians and write the word "CITIZENS" on your Charter Ticket.

Citizens, your City taxes have been increased from 13 mills in the year 1908, to 20 mills in the year 1907 and 1908. During 1908 you had plenty of water for sprinkling and were taxed 13 mills on the dollar. During 1908 you had no water, it was given away—and your taxes were increased 7 mills on the dollar. Change the system of City government and vote for the CITIZENS Charter ticket.

WORK WILL START SOON

Contract for New Building Is to Be Let by C. L. Tutt This Week.

The contract for the new building to be occupied by the Wilbur Suit company at 27 North Tejon street, bids for which were opened Saturday, will be let before the end of the present week by C. L. Tutt, who intends to construct a two-story structure to cost about $30,000. Work on the new structure will be commenced soon after the contract is let, and the building will be ready for occupancy about July 1. It will have a frontage of 25 feet on Tejon street and will extend back to the alley. It will be of stone, concrete and brick, as nearly fireproof as possible.

STATE DAIRYMEN TO HOLD CONVENTION THIS WEEK

A convention of the dairymen of Colorado and the annual meeting of the States Dairymen's association, will be held at the St. James hotel, Denver, next Wednesday. A large attendance from all parts of the state is expected. Some of the best dairymen of the state, college professors and government experts will discuss the various phases of the dairy industry. Possibilities of Colorado as a dairy state and needed legislation will also have a place on the program which is being arranged by State Dairy Commissioner B. G. D. Bishopp.

Indications are that the attendance at this convention will be greater than ever before.

Any system of City government which increases taxation, without any return, and denies our people a plentiful supply of good water by giving it away to the "interests" and wasting, should be changed. Vote for the CITIZENS Charter delegates who will frame a City Charter that will insure a decrease in taxation and conserve and protect your water system against the politicians and "interests."

TO ORGANIZE STATE SOCIETY

A state society of the War of 1812 is to be organized in Colorado by F. H. Pettingell of this city and others interested in the movement. Mr. Pettingell will receive applications at his home, 11 West View place.

The Colorado branch of the society will be the fourteenth of its kind in the United States, according to Mr. Pettingell. It has a total membership of 400, composed of those who are lineal descendants of participants in the War of 1812. The original society was organized in Baltimore in 1814 by officers who took part in that war.

While the politicians and their friends, the "interests," run your water system, you can confidently expect a repetition of last summer's experience—no water for trees, lawns, flowers or gardens. Vote to take the management of your water system from the politicians and write the word "CITIZENS" on your Charter ticket.

Show economy for everybody—Vorhes' Clearance Shoe Sale.

Under a charter form of City government it will not be possible for citizens, taxpayers and property owners to suffer the inconveniences and destruction of property without fire, sewerage and full fresh water. Vote the CITIZENS Charter ticket.

One Way To Avoid Piles

and Appendicitis

Every incoming patient recites the same story—neglected or improperly treated constipation. The great increase of operations for appendicitis, rectal diseases and womanly displacements, indicates the crying need of a mild but sure treatment for constipation, says a well-known hospital matron. Headache, stomach troubles, piles and all the fevers of children can be prevented by using this mild formula whenever any costiveness exists. Get of any well-stocked drug store one ounce aromatic fluid cascara, one ounce compound essence cardiol, and two ounces aromatic syrup rhubarb. Mix, and adults take from ½ to 2 teaspoonfuls after each meal, while children will readily take from five drops to a teaspoonful after each meal, according to age. This treatment will correct the bowels and not drug them. The longer it is used the less need of it except when some heavy meal is consumed, or when one catches cold."

CHRONIC CATARRH OF HEAD AND THROAT

One of the Most Common and Most Dangerous Diseases.

Always Caused by a Neglected Cold or a Succession of Colds. How to Prevent It.

The air passages of the head, throat and lungs are lined with mucous membrane which in health secretes a thin, watery liquid to keep it moist. When a person takes cold this membrane becomes inflamed. The inflammation is at first acute and is easily cured, but when a cold lingers for weeks the inflammation becomes chronic and a thick, offensive mucus is secreted. The disease at this stage is known as chronic catarrh and is seldom, if ever, permanently cured. The time to effect a cure is when the cold is first contracted and the inflammation is in the acute stage. All that is needed is a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Take it and a quick cure is certain. Very often chronic catarrh is contracted in childhood. Parents do not realize the serious consequences that may follow and permit colds contracted by their children to linger for weeks. As a consequence the child becomes afflicted with chronic catarrh for which it never wholly recovers. The catarrh may cause no trouble or inconvenience while the child is young and strong but later in life or during when older.

PRINTING

SOME ADVICE FOR THE PURCHASER OF PRINTING AND an ARGUMENT in FAVOR of HIGHER QUALITY AT FAIR PRICES vs. POOR WORK AT CHEAP PRICES

BUYING printed matter is a task that should be given more care than is usually given to it by the customer. Your letterhead and business card are an advance salesman of your business; they should have dignity and style to a degree equal to your rating in Bradstreet's; they should have certain advertising features. It is with an idea to this end that we solicit your printing orders. Leaflets, Circulars, Booklets and Announcements that are bright and catchy attract attention and make good ammunition to increase business.

NEW BOY SOLOIST CREATES A SENSATION

The morning service at Grace Episcopal church yesterday developed the fact that Colorado Springs now has one of the finest boy soloists in the country, according to competent eastern critics who have heard the boy soloists in the big churches and cathedrals of the east and who chanced to be present yesterday.

The new singer is Vernon A. Franklin, the 12-year-old son of C. A. Franklin, and his singing of "Fear Ye Not, O Israel," by Dudley Buck, one of the most difficult soprano solos ever sung by a boy, created a considerable sensation. It was Master Franklin's first appearance as a soloist in heavy work, and his beautiful tones rang out pure and sweet and caused many to rise in the seats or lean far out into the aisles to see the singer.

Master Franklin has been under the training of Clarence D. Sears, organist and choirmaster of the church, who has brought out a number of fine boy soloists in the past, but considers Master Franklin probably the best he has handled. The new boy singer will shortly appear at a recital to be given by Mr. Sears. In response to many requests, Master Franklin will repeat his solo of yesterday next Sunday night.

Any system of City government which increases taxation, without any return, and denies our people a plentiful supply of good water by giving it away to the "interests" and wasting, should be changed. Vote for the CITIZENS Charter delegates who will frame a City Charter that will insure a decrease in taxation and conserve and protect your water system against the "interests" and "interests."

Citizens, your City taxes have been increased from 12 mills in the year 1906, to 20 mills in the years 1907 and 1908. During 1906 you had plenty of water for sprinkling and were taxed 12 mills on the dollar. During 1908 you had no water, it was given away—and your taxes were raised 7 mills on the dollar. Change the system of City government and vote for the CITIZENS ticket.

Wants

FOR SALE—REAL ESTATE.

AN IDEAL RANCH HOME

There are few homelike ranch properties to be had within twelve miles of Colorado Springs. We are able to offer you an ideal ranch home in the north of this city. This ranch comprises eight hundred acres, mostly choice agricultural land with abundance of running water in the fields. Also springs and wells. This land is underlain with coal and there is available deposit of fire clay. Both coal and fire clay are contiguous to two railroads and the building of spurs is all that is necessary to load these products directly into cars for shipment.

There is a large, well-built house of six rooms and a large barn and other buildings and corrals. The spring running close to the house.

Might consider exchanging for city property.

We are able to name a price of $12,000 on this property.

The undeveloped resources of this property warrant the prediction that this ranch will sell for double the price now asked within five years.

The development of its resources, even to a limited extent, will more than advance in price.
